

DO WE NEED A NEW ENLIGHTENMENT
FOR THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY?

Guest Editor: Robert Elliott Allinson

Editorial 5

1. ON THE IDEA OF TOLERANCE AND RELIGIOUS BELIEFS

Emilia A. Tajsin — Understanding Is Not Enough 27
Adriana Neacșu — John Locke—Theorist of Limiting and Supervising Political Power by Citizens 49
Diego Lucci — Separating Politics from Institutional Religion: The Significance of John Locke’s Theory of Toleration 67
Shmuel Feiner — Mendelssohn’s Jerusalem (1783) and The Jewish Vision of Tolerance 89
Columbus N. Ogbujah — Benedict de Spinoza’s Virtue: Springboard for Modern Valorization of Ethical Relativism 107
Gabriela Tănăsescu — Philosophy and Theological Rationalism:
Spinoza and Hobbes 123
Gerhardt Stenger — From Toleration to Laïcité: Bayle, Voltaire and the Declaration of the Rights of Man 145
Evgeniy Bubnov — The Idea of Miracle in the Enlightenment and Enlightenment in the Idea of Miracle: The Dialectics of Theological Narrative and Philosophical Discourse 163

2. THINKING FOR ONESELF, REASON AND MYSTICISM

Halina Walentowicz — Jean-Jacques Rousseau in the Context of the Enlightenment and the Contemporary Era 185
Ana Bazac — Understanding the Virtues of Enlightenment Epistemology 211
German Melikhov — Productive Misunderstanding: Independent Thinking as the Horizon of the Enlightenment (On the Example of Polemics between Immanuel Kant and Friedrich Heinrich Jacobi) 231

3. THE FRUITS OF THE EUROPEAN ENLIGHTENMENT AND THE BEGINNING OF ITS CRITIQUE

Elena Tashlinskaya — Education Project: Utopia or New Reality? (Intellectuals of Russia of the 18th Century)	247
Ashok Kumar Malhotra — Appraisal of Steven Pinker's Position on Enlightenment	263
Omer Moussaly — A Historicist Critique of Steven Pinker's Interpretation of Progress	285
Luke O'Sullivan — On the Very Idea of Civilisation	307